

Be Counted!

This year, can you make a spiritual pledge to your FJC Community? Become a Mitzvah Maker!

The High Holy Days offer us an annual opportunity to ground ourselves in our Jewish traditions - we reflect on our past year and look ahead to ways we can improve our spiritual lives and help those around us in the coming year.

At Congregation Agudath Achim (Freehold Jewish Center), there is a very special way that you can do that - by attending one of our morning Minyans (whether in-person or on Zoom), Friday night or Saturday morning services.

Our congregants do a wonderful job of supporting each other and sharing in the milestones of our members' lives - lending a helping hand, bringing meals to someone who is ill, making a Shiva call, celebrating a wedding or Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Minyan is a critical component of that, offering services so that members wishing to recite Kaddish for a loved one can do so. This can only happen when we have at least 10 Jewish men at services; all too often, we find ourselves just one or two people short.

Please be one of those people this year who makes a difference.

Each week we ask a group of congregants to attend at least one of our Minyanim or Shabbat services during that week. Please take a moment to review the schedule on the back of this flyer and note the weeks you have been assigned. Of course, you may attend any time. Many find a weekday Minyan a reflective way to prepare for the day ahead and attending a Shabbat service an important way to complete their work week. You can also improve your Hebrew reading ability or learn more about Jewish prayers and ritual. And it's a great way to get help others in our FJC Community with their remembering their loved ones.

We look forward to seeing you throughout the year!
